2024 was the 75th anniversary of the creation of National Parks in the United Kingdom (UK). The UK's national parks are popular, highly valued places to relax, hike, climb and cycle. They are also safe spaces for rare wildlife, plants and unique habitats. There are strict rules in place to ensure wildlife is protected.

The Lake District in Cumbria is the most visited of the UK's 15 National Parks, welcoming more than 19 million visitors each year. Tourism generates £2.6bn for Cumbria every year, supporting 32,000 jobs in hotels, restaurants, sightseeing tours and water sports.

Critics say the Lake District's rural infrastructure is often too overwhelmed with congestion, litter, full car parks and overworked mountain rescue teams.

- (c) With reference to the data above and your knowledge of economics, evaluate the possible impact of economic growth from tourism on the environment for a country such as the UK.
