(d) The graph below shows how the initial number of polyps present in one area affects the population density of polyps in the same area.

(i) Using the information in the graph, describe the relationship between the initial number of polyps in an area and the population density.

(2)

....

....

....

....

....